

Want to chase your every dream through work, friendship, and compensation???

I developed this company in hopes of allowing and encouraging women of all types to have pride in life. Stuck in a bad relationship, addiction, mental illness? I'M HERE TO HELP YOU CHASE YOUR DREAMS

Yucaipa, CA (BizHWY) October 3, 2022 - Hello everyone!! My name is Amy and I am the sole member, at this time of Worked My Way Up, LLC. I started this business because I believe every woman out there is deserving of all her hopes and dreams. I am a mother, a fiancée, a disabled veteran, an addict in recovery, a struggling mental health patient, a survivor of numerous types of abuse, and I am a WARRIOR.

SO ARE YOU!!

No matter your circumstances right now, if you wish to change them, and are willing to allow me to lead you, I hope to help you achieve every dream you have or have had. Together we are warriors who have battled many storms and still came out the other side. Your dreams are possible. ALTHOUGH, you have to be willing to put in some work, take direction, listen, and learn. Then together, we will take action and get you where you've always wanted to be.

I look forward to meeting you and assisting you in whatever way I can. Even if it's just to listen to you, this is what I have been led to do. Also, in most cases, I have probably been there myself, so I will be able to relate to you on a more personal level. I am doing this because helping other women survive is what we should all be doing. Let us lift up our families, friends, neighbors, and strangers in prayer and ask God to hear their fears and calm their hearts. We can make a change in the world. we all just have to feel worthy of doing so.
